When this Officer originally contacted Assistant U.S. Attorney James Crowe in 2007, regarding an early termination of supervision, he indicated that the wanted the offender to complete two years of supervision. The offender has now completed two years of supervision. Several e-mails and voice mail messages have been left for Assistant U.S. Attorney James Crowe to ascertain if there are any objections to the early termination, but no response has been received. During the last correspondence, this officer indicated that if no response was received, this officer would move forward with the petition for early termination.

U.S. Probation Officer Recommendation:

The offender has done well since the commencement of his supervised release. He has complied with the conditions of releases and has not incurred any violations that required the Court's attention. The offender has completed DNA testing and maintained employment in the building maintenance field. The offender successfully completed the on-site drug testing program and has not submitted any positive drug tests. The offender has resided with his aunt in Belleville, Illinois, throughout his supervision.

Inasmuch as the defendant has satisfied or complied with all conditions and is no longer in need of supervision, it is accordingly recommended that the defendant be discharged from supervised release.

Respectfully submitted.
